About the Seminar

Ever experienced difficulties recovering monies owed to you? Tired of entertaining excuses upon excuses from your debtor pleading for more time to make repayment but never actually receiving a single cent? Should you hire a debt recovery company and what are the risks, if any? At WMH Law Corporation, our lawyers routinely represent both individuals and corporations in various debt recovery claims. We understand your frustrations.

In this seminar, we seek to provide a roadmap of the debt recovery process for individuals and corporations alike. Participants would be provided an insight into both the debt recovery and enforcement process.
